

A Consolidated Solution across Multiple Sectors

Mobile Guarding

A business consulting firm in Washington, DC moved to a new building and required 24/7 security coverage that included cameras and Mobile Patrol services with Alarm Response. The new building had no security plan in place, so the client was looking for detailed recommendations.

Challenge:

The client's security plan at its old building was provided by multiple companies and was sometimes burdensome to manage. The client wanted a variety of service options, one point of contact and a consolidated invoice. Securitas USA was contacted to provide a program to meet these needs.

Solution:

Securitas recommended a combination of Electronic Security, and Remote and Mobile Guarding, to provide 24/7 coverage. Working with the Securitas Solutions Technology team, the following security plan was developed:

- Two security cameras installed at strategic locations to cover all entry points to the business
- 24/7 Remote Monitoring via the Securitas Operation Center
- Alarm response services provided by Securitas Mobile Guarding so that potential issues are rapidly investigated by an officer on the ground
- Lock/unlock services to lower overtime for maintenance personnel
- Mobile Patrol inspections seven days a week to unlock/disarm system, lock/arm system, and provide a visible security presence during off hours
- Remote Monitoring coverage with remote patrols throughout the entire day, paired with Mobile Patrol services during off hours

Result:

- A safer work environment at a lower cost
- Consolidated invoice and contact for all Securitas supplied security services

"Given our office's unconventional building and unique location down an alley in a busy downtown area of a major city, Securitas Mobile and Remote patrol service has proven very valuable. It gives us peace of mind during off-hours that the security of our building and assets are in good hands, even if there is no guard permanently on-site. The functionality and flexibility of both patrols allows Securitas to respond to urgent and changing security demands from us." – Client Procurement Manager
