

Single Source, Full Spectrum Security for Building Manufacturer

Emulsions Manufacturer | Integrated Guarding

A producer of asphalt and industrial emulsions for the building products industries recently acquired a site in South Carolina.

Challenge:

Looking to develop a cost-effective plan for the new location, the client contacted Securitas for full spectrum security across a variety of services from a single provider.

Solution:

The site's previous tenant had a partnership with Securitas, making this an even smoother transition to continued security support for the client. Discussions between the client and local Securitas Branch Manager determined that the new plan would include:

- A full access control system to manage authorization and log access to restricted locations within the building.
- A new video surveillance system with intelligent behavioral video analytics to provide oversight to critical areas for after-hours coverage.
 - Analytics are configured to trigger security-related events at the Securitas Operation Center.
 - Remote Guarding officers investigate and escalate as necessary to local law enforcement.
- Securitas Response Services for temporary, on-demand On-Site Guarding for events such as:
 - A malfunctioning fire alarm.
 - Employee termination requiring additional oversight and a physical presence.

Result:

The client was able to amortize the cost of equipment by transferring it from a capital expenditure to an operational spend. The client renewed Remote Guarding services with the maintenance and service program, helping to ensure longevity and functionality of the equipment. Securitas has been able to provide this client highly intuitive and flexible options that can grow as needs evolve.
